TATTOO LOVE (PAPERBACK)

Xulon Press, United States, 2009. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . A challenge in life came, and the thought of putting it in writing emerged. Thus, this book was written not to relate an eloquent display of emotional upheaval but to show the reality that this challenge is true to the new-age culture we face today. The author holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in English, studied for three years in a Bible school and is a retired state employee. She is happily married to a wonderful husband, who is a deacon in church and a retired school business manager, state and county government employee. They have two adult children, one of whom has physical and mental challenges in life. In 2006, they started a kindergarten school for the aborigines in the mountains of Asia. The author volunteers on mission trips to Mexico and other local, church-related opportunities for community service, such as feeding the homeless in downtown Houston. They take residence in Sugarland, Texas. It is her desire to give glory and honor to the One who is greater than anyone else, the beginning and the end, the author and finisher of her faith. Life is but a fleeting fancy, like a vapor in the wind, a flower that blooms and is gone tomorrow, and there is an end to all. What have we done with our lives? If we know the purpose of our being, we can rest in the knowledge that everything that happens in our lives has a purpose—His purpose! So the challenge comes to everyone. What is your purpose? And what are you going to do about it? A worthy message in a timely fashion Radical, unconventional, revolutionary, thought-provoking, inspiring What happens when conservatism, old values, and New...
